

Branch Event October 17

Mayor John Suthers will be meeting with AAUW and the League of Women Voters of the Pikes Peak Region on Saturday, October 17 to discuss the state of the city.

The meeting will take place in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church, 420 N. Nevada beginning at 9:30 am.

Following his presentation, Mayor Suthers has agreed to take questions from the attendees so start thinking now about what you want to ask.

Light Refreshments will be provided. Handicapped accessible.

The meeting is free and open to the public, but to aid in planning, please make a reservation by clicking on this link: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/mayor-suthers-discusses-the-state-of-our-city-tickets-18674107759>

American Association of University Women

Colorado Springs Branch Presents

AUTHORS' DAY

Our fund-raiser for Local Scholarships going to women attending PPCC and UCCS

Date: Saturday, November 14, 2015

Time: 9:15 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Place: Doubletree Hotel, 1775 E. Cheyenne Mt. Blvd.

Price: $60 (Includes a large amount for our scholarships)

Our stimulating authors are:

STEPHEN COONTS Coonts is the author of innumerable New York Times bestsellers. After College he was commissioned an Ensign in the US Navy and received his Navy wings in 1969. His first novel, Flight of the Intruder, spent 28 weeks on the New York Times bestsellers list; a motion picture based on the novel was released in 1991. The success of this novel allowed Coonts to devote himself full-time to writing. His books are widely translated and published in many countries. He still enjoys flying and tries to do it as much as possible.

BARBARA SAMUEL O'NEAL O'Neal fell in love with food and restaurants at the age of fifteen when she landed a job at a Greek café and served baklava for the first time. She sold her first novel in her twenties and has since won a plethora of awards, including two Colorado Book Awards and six prestigious RITAs. One was for The Lost Recipe for Happiness in 2010, written as Barbara O'Neal. Writing as Barbara Samuel, she has published five novels of women's fiction and seven novels of historical fiction. Her novels, which often include recipes, have been published widely in Europe and Australia, and she travels internationally, presenting workshops, hiking hundreds of miles, and of course, eating. She lives in her hometown of Colorado Springs.

RACHEL WEAVER Weaver is the author of the novel, Point of Direction, which Oprah magazine described as a “strikingly vivid debut novel.” In his review on NPR’s All Things Considered, Alan Cheuse described the novel as one that “pulls you in.” Point of Direction was chosen by the American Booksellers Association as a top ten debut for Spring 2014, by IndieBound as an Indie Next List Pick, and by Yoga Journal as one of their top five suggested summer reads. Prior to earning her MFA in Writing and Poetics from Naropa University, Rachel worked as a biologist for the Forest Service in Alaska studying bears, raptors and songbirds. She is on faculty at Regis University’s low-residency MFA program and at Lighthouse Writers Workshop. She just won the prestigious Willa Award

GORDON ANDERSON Helen McIntire Anderson, Anderson’s Mother, researched and wrote Historic Homes of Colorado Springs and Vicinity over a period of twenty-two years. She began visiting these historic homes, interviewing residents, and consulting historians at the age of 77 and finished her manuscript just one month before her passing in 2006. Her son, Gordon, photographed the houses in the book. In addition to taking the black and white photos, he spent 10 years working to finish the book his mother had started. The book was published by the Historic Preservation Alliance of Colorado Springs

AAUW President's Message

Our Welcome Coffee on September 19 was a great success! The program on Human Trafficking in Southern Colorado presented by CSPD Officer Chris Burns was very interesting and informative. This topic was identified as a significant Public Policy issue in our survey last spring. As usual, the Welcome Coffee had fantastic food and a wealth of information about our interest groups. The interest groups are in full-swing and it is not too late to join. Thanks to everyone who contributed to the success of this event.

We have several new members on the Colorado Springs AAUW Board this year. We welcome Phyllis Sperber, President-Elect; Jean Little, Secretary; Frieda Dunlap, Treasurer; Suzanne Stahlbuhk, VP-Membership; Paula Munger, Co-VP Programs; Char Gagne, Local Scholarships and Eunice Ciaccio, Archivist. They and the returning board members have a great year planned. The Board will continue the previous goals of providing meaningful mission-based programs and collaborating with other women's organizations. By doing so, we hope to increase member participation in branch events.

We are also committed to keeping you informed about AAUW activities through our newsletters, website, eblasts and other social media. All these contain up-to-date information about our events and opportunities to participate. Thanks to June Hallenbeck for our great newsletters and directory and to Pauleta Terven for maintaining our branch website. The website can be accessed at coloradosprings-co.aauw.net. More information about our branch web site as well as the state and national web sites is in the directory.

Important dates coming up are October 17 for a joint meeting with the League of Women Voters featuring Mayor John Suthers and Authors' Day on November 14. Remember that Authors' Day is our principle fundraiser for Local Scholarships. Both of these events will be a great opportunity to invite friends and prospective members.

2015-2016 AAUW National Convention

The AAUW National Convention was held in June in San Diego. It was very interesting, informative and inspiring. The emphasis was on one mission: advancing equity for women and girls. It provided an opportunity to meet the national AAUW Board of Directors, the national staff and delegates from Colorado and other states. The speakers and panel discussions were outstanding and covered a variety of topics including women in engineering, leadership, public policy, civil rights in education and others.

There were many professionally presented workshops covering ways to support the work and mission of AAUW. These included how to brand programming, methods for using branch programming as a recruitment tool, and branch financial best practices. I attended workshops on marketing fundamentals, fundraising and financial best practices. The workshops provided time for questions from delegates and it was interesting to hear some of the issues facing other branches and possible solutions.

The new national campaign "Charting the Course" was explained. This is a two-year effort with the goal of raising $1,000,000 in unrestricted funds for AAUW's programs across the country. These unrestricted funds will allow AAUW flexibility to create new programs in response to issues facing us today and in the future. The money will be used where the need is the greatest. More information is available at aauw.org/chartingthecourse.

The convention was a motivating experience. Thanks so much for giving me the opportunity to attend.

LOCAL SCHOLARSHIP REPORT

As your new local scholarships chairwoman, I would like to encourage each and every AAUW member to attend our Author's Day event, Sat., November 14, 2015. Our Author's Day event is the major fundraiser for our local scholarships. I know that I would not be writing this news article today if it were not for the financial and emotional support I received decades ago when I embarked on a college education. Each of us belongs to AAUW because we have, at some point in our lifetime, chosen to seek and complete post-secondary degrees. For some of us, this journey happened lock-step, a seamless path from high-school directly to college. Others of us raised families and then returned to college, facing the arduous task of juggling numerous life roles simultaneously, with eyes focused on the prize of a college degree.

Serving on the local scholarship committee for several years evaluating our scholarship applications is an eye-opening experience on the immense financial and time management challenges current college students face. Some of us were fortunate enough to have sufficient financial support for our college years. Many of us struggled, worked part time, and took out loans to realize our dream of a college degree. Listening to our applicant's stories is a humbling, moving glimpse into the lives of what our applicants endure to obtain their education. The financial risk taken by many of our current students in the hopes of obtaining a better life is daunting.

Our five $1,000 scholarship recipients offer our world these talents and hope:

Kimberly Copely is a Beth-El Nursing students and ROTC UCCS Mountain Ranger Battalion cadet with a goal of becoming an army nurse. She tutors at the UCCS Language learning center, serves as Vice President of the Military Awareness Club and treasurer of Student Nurses Association, and teaches Sunday school to four-year-olds. Kimberly wrote, "My goal is to serve and given back to those who have given on my behalf."

Nassia Duncan is enrolled in the UCCS Bachelors of Healthcare Science: medical Laboratory Science Option. Working 32 hours/week as a TV close captioner to pay for her education, she also juggles volunteer work building homes for impoverished families in Tijuana, Mexico and work with "A Family for Every Orphan, an organization which finds homes for orphans in Russia, Ukraine, Uganda, Nepal, and India. She has a goal of working in a non-profit to combat poverty and illness in South Africa.

Ivonne Montano is a wife, mother, and veteran who has returned to complete her degree in Inclusive Early Childhood Education with a focus on dual language learners and children with disabilities. She is a naturalized citizen, having moved to Minnesota from Chihuahua, Mexico as a child, joined the U.S. Army at age 17, deployed to Afghanistan, and worked with special needs children in Italy. She has a goal to provide early childhood education to all children, regardless of language and learning barriers.

Nicole Renfrow is a single mother of a six year old daughter, works 50 hours a week as an accountant for the Concept Restaurants, and maintains a 4.0 in Accounting at UCCS. She has worked for the past seven years for the restaurant chain in order to support her daughter and to reach her goal of a B. A. in accounting. She has a goal of becoming a Certified Public Accountant and has tremendous experience already in the accounting field.

Joanne Yeshuas is a single mother to two children aged 10 and 13, while working full time as a Correctional Officer One at the Colorado State Penitentiary in Canyon City and attending classes at PPCC. A South Korean orphan, she has overcome tremendous obstacles of abuse, foster home placement, dissolved marriages, and risen above these challenges to obtain her A.S. Degree in biology at PPCC. She has a goal of doing bio-medical research, possibly in water purification system for Third World countries.

We each have a percentage of our income that we may choose to donate, gamble, squander, and invest. After serving on the local scholarship committee, I know my dollars that go towards Author's Day/Local Scholarship fund reap a return far beyond –the ripple is endless when you read these scholarship recipients goals for the future. We each lend a helping hand in our own way!

Char Gagne, Local Scholarship

AAUW Financial Review Report as of June 30, 2015

Gay Hatcher and Jeanne Knudson, the financial review committee, met with Treasurer Frieda Dunlap at her home on August 10, 2015. Three major areas were reviewed.

Three accounts are held with the ENT Federal Credit Union. The checking account receives regular deposits from member dues, fund raising activities, luncheon receipts and other regular activities. All disbursements are handled from this account. The savings account is the repository for funds that are not currently needed for operations. Within the savings account, all funds are allocated to one of the following funds: Contingency Fund, Legal Advocacy Fund, Local Scholarship Fund, AAUW Fund (EF), and the Judith Sanderson Fund. When disbursed, the funds are transferred electronically to checking. The third account, a $10,000 CD with a 6 month maturity, is held as a reserve. Bank reconciliations were sampled and it was determined that the reconciliations matched the monthly check book balance.

Monthly reports giving a detailed summary of the checking, savings and CD are prepared each month. Monthly Budget to Actual spreadsheets detailing monthly receipts and expenses are also prepared. Documentation for each expenditure is filed by check number in fiscal year files. Documentation for receipts is filed with bank deposit backup. A sampling of expenses and receipts were all traced to appropriate backup.

The review found no inconsistencies or questionable data. The Colorado Springs branch of AAUW thanks Jo Weilbrenner for the time and effort she expended as Treasurer for most of the 2014-2015 fiscal year. We are very appreciative that Frieda Dunlap assumed the role of Treasurer when Jo left Colorado Springs and that Frieda will continue in that position for fiscal 2015-2016.

The Southern Colorado Girls' STEM Initiative

Remember that the Southern Colorado Girls STEM Experience is scheduled for December 7 at UCCS. AAUW will be a sponsor again this year, and volunteers will be needed. E-mail pauletat@aol.com if you would like to help—and thanks to those who have already responded to the request in the September newsletter. The early-bird volunteers are all people who volunteered last year—so it must have been a satisfying experience since they want to do it again. Try it!

Public Policy Action Team

The AAUW Public Policy Action Team has recruited several organizations to work with us in our public engagement campaign to start a community dialogue around the issues raised in the upcoming PBS documentary, The Raising of America. The group has decided to form a community alliance, and is in the process of choosing a name for ourselves. The Public Policy group initiated this project because the lack of quality, affordable childcare is a major barrier to self-sufficiency for women and families. It is part of a nation-wide and state-wide effort.

January AAUW Event

Our January AAUW Event will be held on Saturday, January 9th at Library 21c. We will be featuring a topic from the documentary, so stay tuned for more info . . .

Watch the Documentary on PBS

We are promoting the watching of the five part documentary, which is expected to begin as early as January, 2016.

Organizations Encouraged to Host

In addition to merely watching the film, we are encouraging various organizations that work with young children and families in the areas of health, mental health, early care and education, and family support to organize screenings with guided discussion groups to determine specific actions to address specific issues raised in the film.

Public Policy Interest Group

Sign up for the Public Policy Interest Group if you would like to be on the mailing list for updates about various public policy issues. This group can submit future suggestions to the Public Policy Action Team for concentrated focus, just as the focus this year is on early childhood care, education, and health.

Early Childhood is a hidden factor of the economy

Most mothers used to be homemakers and fathers breadwinners

-Today women are 58% of the US workforce (2012)

-Employee absenteeism due to childcare breakdowns costs US business
$3 billion per year

-The US is the only advanced country that does not provide maternity leave or childcare for working mothers

GREAT DECISIONS DISCUSSION GROUP STARTING FEBRUARY 2

Don't miss the 2016 Great Decisions discussion group highlighting eight of the most thought provoking foreign policy challenges facing Americans. Great Decisions is America's largest discussion program on world affairs. A briefing book on the eight topics will be provided for each participant. A 20 minute video on the scheduled topic is shown at the beginning of the meeting as a focus for group discussions.

The topics this year are: Middle East, The Rise of ISIS, The Future of Kurdistan, Migration, The Koreans, The United Nations, Climate Change, and Cuba and the U.S.

The discussion group will be held on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday during the months of February, March, April and May from 1:30 to 3:30. The group will meet on the first Tuesday at the East Branch of the Pikes Peak Public Library, and the third Tuesday at the new 21C Library Branch at Chapel Hills Drive and Jamboree.

A complete schedule of meeting dates and location will be provided to participants prior to the first meeting.

The cost to participants is $23.00 which covers materials, shipping and handling.

If you are interested in signing up for Great Decisions, please provide your email address and phone number to Jeanette Minniti at jeanetteminniti@gmail.com or call 719-481-3230.

Additional information on the deadline to submit payment for materials to receive the AAUW group discount will be sent directly to everyone who registers.
